Where we transfer your Client Money to another legal entity under this clause 12.3, we shall ensure that such Client Money will be held by that entity for you in accordance with this Agreement.
- 12.4. In the event that the account you hold with us is a joint account, we do exercise all due care and diligence to ensure that all withdrawals are paid back to its source and to the particular party that initiated the actual deposit. In case of profit withdrawing, KCM may initiate payments to any party to the joint account provided that it has received appropriate approval from the second party and it is satisfied pursuant to its due diligence verification and checks.
- 12.5. You consent to us releasing any Client Money balances, for or on your behalf, from Client Money bank accounts and for us to cease to treat as Client Money any unclaimed Client Money balance where:
- i. it is permitted by law and consistent with the arrangements under which Client Money is held;
 - ii. we have determined that there has been no movement on your balance for a period of six years (notwithstanding any payments or receipts of charges, interest, or similar items);

- iii. we have taken reasonable steps to trace you and to return the balance to you; and iv. we make and retain records of all balances released from our Client Money bank accounts in respect of your Client Money.

13. Funding your Trading Account

- 13.1. You can fund your trading account using credit or debit cards, wire transfers, or any other payment methods accepted by the Company or its affiliated companies, at their sole discretion. Please be aware that certain payment methods may not be available in all countries.
- 13.2. The minimum initial deposit required to begin trading is outlined in the “Choose Plan” section on our website.
- 13.3. The Company does not accept payments from third parties. For security purposes, the name on the funding source must match the account holder's identity.
- 13.4. For the latest information on accepted funding methods and associated charges, please consult our “Deposit and Withdrawal Policy” available on the Company’s website.

14. Quotes and Transactions

- 14.1. Upon your request, we may, at our sole discretion, provide a non-binding quote along with the details of applicable charges for specific Transaction. The quote may reflect either the bid/offer prices from the Underlying Market or our own quoted prices, as specified in the Contract Specifications. Charges for opening and closing Transaction will depend on the account type you hold. For the latest account details, please visit our website.
- 14.2. The rates we quote are valid only at the moment they are provided and may change at any time. You acknowledge that our spreads and the spreads in the underlying market may vary significantly under certain conditions. These may differ from the examples shown in the Contract Specifications, and there is no fixed limit on how wide spreads can be. When you close a Transaction, the spread may differ, either narrower or wider, than when the position was opened. For Transactions placed when the underlying market is closed or does not exist, we will quote prices based on what we reasonably believe to be the current market value. These prices and spreads are determined at our reasonable discretion and reflect our assessment of the market at that time.
- 14.3. You may request to quote to open or close all part of a Transaction during the normal trading hours of the relevant instrument.

14.4. If we decide to provide a quote, it may be communicated to you by phone, via our Online Facility, or through any other method we may notify you of. These quotes are not binding offers to enter a trade. You must initiate an offer to open or close a Transaction, which we may accept or reject at our discretion until the transaction is executed or your offer is withdrawn. A Transaction is considered valid only once your offer has been received and accepted by us. Our confirmation of the trade terms will serve as evidence that the Transaction has been successfully executed. In any event, we reserve the right to reject your offer at the level quoted if any of the following factors are not satisfied:

- a) the quote has been obtained from us in accordance with these Terms;
- b) the quote is not expressed as being given on an 'indicative only' or similar basis;
- c) if you obtain the quote by telephone, it must be given by a dealer employed by us, and your offer to open or close the Transaction must be made during the same telephone conversation in which you obtained the quote. The dealer giving the quote must not have informed you, before you make the offer to open or close the Transaction, that the quote is no longer valid;
- d) if you obtain the quote electronically via our Online Facility, your offer to open or close the Transaction and our acceptance of your offer must occur while the quote is still valid;
- e) the quote must not be manifestly erroneous;
- f) when you offer to open a Transaction, the number of shares, contracts or other units in respect of which the Transaction is to be opened must be neither smaller than the Minimum Size nor larger than the Normal Market Size;
- g) when you offer to open a Transaction, the number of shares, contracts, or other units in respect of which the Transaction is to be opened must be neither smaller than the Minimum Size nor larger than the Normal Market Size;
- h) when you offer to close part but not all of an open Transaction, both the part of the Transaction that you offer to close and the part that would remain open if we accepted your offer must not be smaller than the Minimum Size;
- i) a Force Majeure event must not have occurred;
- j) when you offer to open a Transaction, an Event of Default must not have occurred in respect of you, nor must you have acted in such a way as to trigger an Event of Default;
- k) the telephone or electronic communication in which you offer to open or close the Transaction must not be terminated before we have received and accepted your offer; or
- l) when you offer to open or close any Transaction, the opening of the Transaction must not result in your exceeding any credit or other limit placed on your dealings.

- 14.5. We reserve the right to decline any request to open or close a Transaction that exceeds the Normal Market Size. If you request a quote for a Transaction at or above this size, we do not guarantee that our price will align with a specific percentage of the price quoted in the Underlying or related market. Additionally, our acceptance of such offers may be subject to specific terms or requirements, which we will inform you of at the time of acceptance. You may request information on the Normal Market Size for any given instrument at any time.
- 14.6. If our quoted price moves in your favor before we accept your offer to open or close a Transaction (for example, if the price decreases while you are buying or increases while you are selling), you acknowledge that we may, but are not obligated to, offer you the improved price.
- 14.7. If an instrument is listed on multiple Underlying Markets, including one primary market, you agree that we may, but are not required to, calculate our bid and offer prices based on the combined pricing across all relevant Underlying Markets. Where an Instrument trades on multiple Underlying Markets, one of which is the primary Underlying Market, you agree that we may but are not required to base our bid and offer prices on the aggregate bid/offer prices in the Underlying Markets.

15. Instructions to the Client and Communication with us

- 15.1. If information has not been communicated through approved channels, or if any instruction or information has been misunderstood or misinterpreted, you are responsible for making the necessary amendments, and we accept no liability for any loss, financial or otherwise, related to the instruction.
- 15.2. We accept no liability for any loss resulting from delayed or undelivered communication sent by us to you.
- 15.3. Timing is crucial when trading Leveraged Products. You are responsible for ensuring that all communications pertaining to your transactions with us are timely.
- 15.4. We will carry out any instruction received from you without further inquiry. However, we retain the right to accept or decline any instruction in full or in part. We may reach out to you if we plan to execute transactions in a way that diverges from your typical trading patterns (for example, if your account balance often leads to negative equity, we may suggest trading with a higher margin requirement).

- 15.5. We may confirm any instructions received from you using any durable method or telephone. However, you should refrain from communicating with our employees through unapproved or unauthorized channels, such as personal mobile phones or personal accounts. All official communication must occur exclusively through the company's designated domain, LandmarkMarkets.com.
- 15.6. If you have designated an Authorised Representative to act on your behalf and wish to revoke their authority, please inform us in writing immediately. Until we have processed this notice, any instructions from the Authorised Representative will be considered valid and binding on you.
- 15.7. Important information regarding order execution can be accessed through the Software, trading platforms, or direct platform, where you can download reports with details on order execution and status, as well as review the current and historical state of your trades and accounts. We may not provide account statements or details in any format other than what is mentioned above.
- 15.8. All orders to trade financial instruments are definitive and cannot be cancelled or deleted, except where permitted by the Software or as otherwise outlined in our legal documentation.
- 15.9. You agree that instructions may be recorded, replicated, or stored, or any combination of these actions, and will be admissible as evidence in any court, arbitration, or other proceedings.
- 15.10. The Company may rely on and act upon any instruction or communication that appears to be made by individuals authorized by the Client. This includes communications from persons that the Client has notified the Company, in writing (including via telefax and emails), as authorized to provide instructions regarding the trading account. Such instructions will be honoured unless the Company has received written notice to the contrary, irrespective of whether the authority of any such person has been revoked.
- 15.11. We are entitled (but not obliged) to act upon or rely on any instructions, even if they are made fraudulently or conflict with other instructions or mandates provided by you at any time. We may delay or refuse to execute an instruction if there are concerns about its content, validity, or authenticity until those concerns have been satisfactorily resolved.
- 15.12. You bear sole responsibility for the accuracy and completeness of all your instructions (including those sent by your Authorized Users) to us. We are not liable for any errors, omissions, mutilations, interruptions, or delays arising from the transmission of such instructions.

15.13. We are authorized to accept, act upon, and rely on all instructions as valid and accurate, and we are under no obligation to:

- a) verify the authenticity or validity of any instructions,
- b) verify the identity or authority of any individual providing an instruction, or
- c) seek your prior approval before acting on any instruction.

15.14. However, at our absolute discretion, we may take steps to ascertain the validity, authenticity, and origin of any instruction.

15.15. After an instruction has been submitted, we may not be able to process a request for cancellation, reversal, or amendment of a prior instruction. If you request the cancellation or modification of any instruction for any reason, we will make reasonable efforts to comply. However, we are not liable for any failure to cancel or amend the instruction if such a request is made at a time or under circumstances that prevent us from fulfilling it.

15.16. We accept no responsibility for any delays in effecting a transaction due to time constraints, time zone differences, or regional holidays.

15.17. You may instruct us to forward certain information to third parties on your behalf. If we agree to carry out such a request, we will use reasonable efforts to forward the information to the recipient and address specified in the relevant instruction within a reasonable timeframe. It is your responsibility to ensure that the information provided for forwarding is complete, accurate, and does not give rise to any claims against us, including but not limited to defamation, privacy violations, or infringement of third-party rights.

15.18. You acknowledge and accept the risk that Instructions may be intercepted, monitored, amended, corrupted, contain viruses, or be otherwise interfered with by third parties and acknowledge and agree that we are not responsible or liable to you or any third party for, and you waive any and all claims in respect of, any losses arising from the same.

15.19. Regarding the Client's instructions and orders:

- a) The Client can provide written instructions using the format specified by the Company, permitting the Company to communicate with the Client or their authorized representatives through registered electronic mail (e-mail).
- b) For written confirmations of the Client's instructions given via phone or fax, the Client must explicitly indicate in the written confirmation that it pertains to the phone or fax instructions. If such confirmation is not provided, the Company will not be responsible for any risks related to potential duplications.

- c) The present instructions and discharges remain valid and binding on the Client as well as on any representative appointed or to be appointed by the Client until and unless a written revocation of the same is received by the Company. The current instructions and releases will remain in effect and binding on the Client and any representative designated or to be designated by the Client until the Company receives a written revocation of the same.
- d) Any instructions or communication to be given to the Company by the Client under this Agreement shall be in writing and sent to the Company at the official address appearing in this Agreement or otherwise as notified to the Client, in the manner specified in this Agreement.
- e) The Company will account to the Client for any transaction effected on the Client's behalf within a reasonable time after the date on which the transaction was effected and confirmations generated once relevant orders confirmation available in line with the instruments involved.
- f) Unless the Client avails itself of a hold mail arrangement, all written communication by the Company to the Client under this Agreement shall be sent to the last address notified to the Company by the Client.
- g) All telephone conversations with the Client for negotiating, agreeing, arranging, and confirming transactions and for the passing of instructions may be recorded by the Company in accordance with the Laws of St. Lucia.
- h) Other rules, as set out in the Terms and Conditions.

16. Dealing Procedures

- 16.1. Once a Transaction has been executed, either fully or partially, you cannot cancel the portion that has already been completed.
- 16.2. We reserve the right to limit the number of open positions you may hold in your account. At our sole discretion, we may refuse to accept any request to open a new position or increase an existing one. We are not obligated to accept, execute, or cancel any part of a Transaction initiated through an Electronic Trading Service. Additionally, we are not responsible for any incorrect or undelivered instructions and may execute orders based solely on the terms we actually receive.
- 16.3. We are not obligated to act on or execute any Transaction if we reasonably believe that your representative or agent is acting beyond their authority. If a Transaction is executed before this belief arises, we may, at our discretion, either close it at the current market price or consider it void from the start. This clause does not impose any duty on us to verify the authority of any agent acting on your behalf.

- 16.4. We are under no obligation to open or close a Transaction if doing so appears impractical or would violate any applicable law, regulation, or term. If we identify such an issue after a Transaction has been opened, we may choose to close it at the prevailing bid (for sell orders) or offer (for buy orders) price or declare the Transaction void from inception.
- 16.5. If a situation arises that is not explicitly addressed in these Terms or the Contract Specifications, we will act in good faith and with fairness. Our decision will consider common market practices and, when relevant, how our own hedging broker treated the same or a related Transaction.
- 16.6. If you open a Sell position on an Instrument, we may pass on to you any stock borrowing fees incurred on our end. If you fail to pay these charges or if we can no longer borrow the instrument in the underlying market (and we notify you accordingly), we reserve the right to close your position immediately, which may result in a loss. Furthermore, you agree to reimburse us for any fines, penalties, liabilities, or similar charges (including buyback fees) imposed by any exchange, market, or regulatory body in connection with your trade or our related hedge.
- 16.7. In the event that you open a Transaction in relation to an Underlying Instrument that is a share, and that underlying share becomes un-borrowable (either from the outset or our brokers/agents have recall from us a stock that we have already borrowed against) so that we are unable to hedge against losses that we may incur in relation to that Transaction we may, at our absolute discretion, take one or more of the following steps:
- a) increase your Margin requirements;
 - b) close the relevant Transactions at such Closing Level as we reasonably believe to be appropriate;
 - c) alter the Last Dealing Time for the relevant Transaction.

17. Opening a Transaction

- 17.1. You will open a Transaction by 'buying' or 'selling'. In these Terms a Transaction that is opened by:
- a) 'buying' is referred to as a 'Buy' and may also, in our dealings with you, be referred to as 'long' or 'long position'; and

- b) 'selling' is referred to as a 'Sell' and may also, in our dealings with you, be referred to as 'short' or 'short position'.
- c)
- 17.2. A Transaction must always be made for a specified number of shares, contracts or other units that constitute the underlying instrument.
- 17.3. Each Transaction opened by you will be binding on you notwithstanding that by opening the Transaction you may have exceeded any credit or other limit applicable to you or in respect of your dealings with us.
- 17.4. When you open and when you close a Transaction, you may be required to pay us a Commission that is calculated as a percentage of the value of the opening or closing Transaction (as applicable) or as an amount per equivalent Instrument or Instruments on the Underlying Market or on any other basis agreed between ourselves in writing. Our commission terms will be notified in writing to you, however, in the event that we do not notify you of the commission terms, we will charge the standard commission rate as published on our website or, if no rate is published, %0.01 of the value of the opening or closing Transaction (as applicable).
- 17.5. Unless we agree otherwise, all sums payable by you pursuant to this Futures Agreement upon opening a Transaction are due and must be paid upon the Opening Level of your Transaction being determined by us.
- 17.6. All fees payable pursuant to this clause and this Agreement will be subject to the clause 10 of this Agreement.

18. Multiple Transactions

- 18.1. MT4: In the case of trading on the MT4 platform:
- i. where you have entered a buy Transaction and you subsequently open a sell Transaction in respect of the same instrument at a time when the buy Transaction remains open, then both transactions will exist simultaneously on the trading system including relevant margin requirements;
 - ii. where you have opened a sell Transaction and you subsequently open a buy Transaction in respect of the same instrument at a time when the sell Transaction remains open, then both transactions will exist simultaneously on the trading system including relevant margin requirements.
- 18.2. MT5: In the case of trading on the MT5 platform:

- 18.2.1. where you have entered a buy Transaction and you subsequently open a sell Transaction in respect of the same instrument at a time when the buy Transaction remains open, then:
- 18.2.2. if the size of the Sell order is less than the size of the buy Transaction, we will treat the offer to sell as an offer to partly close the buy Transaction to the extent of the size of the sell Transaction;
 - i. if the size of the sell Transaction is the same as the size of the buy Transaction, we will treat the offer to sell as an offer to close the buy Transaction entirely;
 - ii. if the size of the sell Transaction exceeds the size of the buy Transaction, we will treat the offer to sell as an offer to close the buy Transaction entirely and open a sell Transaction position equal to the amount of such excess.
- 18.2.3. In the case of trading on the MT5 platform, where you have opened a sell Transaction and you subsequently open a buy Transaction in respect of the same instrument at a time when the sell Transaction remains open, then unless you instruct us to the contrary:
 - i. if the size of the buy Transaction order is less than the size of the sell Transaction we will treat the offer to buy as an offer to partly close the sell Transaction to the extent of the size of the buy Transaction;
 - ii. if the size of the buy Transaction order is the same as the size of the sell Transaction we will treat the offer to buy as an offer to close the sell Transaction entirely;
 - iii. if the size of the buy Transaction order exceeds the size of the sell Transaction we will treat the offer to buy Transaction as an offer to close the sell Transaction entirely and open a buy Transaction equal to the amount of such excess.

19. Closing a Transaction

- 19.1. In relation to trading on the MT4 platform and MT5 platform, to close any Transaction in whole or in part you must enter into a second Transaction in relation to the same Reference Asset as the first Transaction but you must sell if the first Transaction was a purchase and you must purchase if the first Transaction was a sell.
- 19.2. In addition, when trading on the MT5 platform, we will net your first and second Transaction, and the aggregate position shall be displayed on your trading platform.
- 19.3. Spreads, including market Spreads, can and do widen significantly in some circumstances; they may not be the same size and there is no limit on how large they may be. You acknowledge that when you close a Transaction, the Spread may be larger or smaller than the Spread when the Transaction was opened. For Transactions effected when the Market or Underlying Market of any Reference Asset is closed or in respect of which there is no Market or Underlying Market for the Reference Asset, the bid and offer price figures that we quote will reflect what we believe the market price in an investment would be at that time. Such figures will be set by us at our reasonable discretion. Our quotation is not guaranteed to be within any specific percentage of the quotation of the Market or Underlying Market of the Reference Asset, and the Spread quoted by us will reflect our view of prevailing market conditions. You agree not to use our bid and offer prices for any purpose other than for your own trading purpose, and you agree not to distribute our bid and offer prices to any other person whether such redistribution be for commercial or other purposes.

- 19.4. If you approach us to close out a trade which has been entered into between us, we are under no obligation to do this. Where we agree to do this, we will calculate the close out value of the trade based on prevailing market conditions and may include associated costs arising from the close out in this figure. The close out value may be due from you to us or from us to you depending on the trade and may be substantial.
- 19.5. In addition to our rights at clause 34 of this agreement, we may close any Transaction in our sole discretion at any time without notice in the event that:
- a) if it is a 'sell' Transaction, and due to illiquidity in the relevant Reference Asset we are unable to borrow a sufficient number of such Reference Asset to settle any underlying hedge position in respect of the Transaction; or
 - b) if we are required, at any time, by a lender to return any Reference Asset borrowed by us which relates to a Transaction and we are then unable to maintain a hedge position in respect of that Transaction; or
 - c) if at any time we are otherwise unable to establish or maintain a hedge position or any other hedging disruption occurs in respect of a Transaction or the continuation of any such hedge or hedging disruption is likely, in our reasonable judgment, to become more burdensome to us.
- 19.6. With respect to any Transaction that is closed out by us pursuant to or as contemplated by the terms of these Terms:
- a) except as may be otherwise specified in these Terms, the Closing Date will be the date designated by us to you and at a closing price as determined by us;
 - b) no further payments or deliveries are required to be made on or after the Closing Date, except for settlement payments as provided below; and
 - c) any and all amounts payable by either party in settlement of such Transaction are immediately due and payable.

- 19.7. Any and all obligations arising or existing between us as a result of the close-out of one or more Transactions will be satisfied by the net settlement (whether by payment, setoff or otherwise) of all amounts due and payable between us, and the net amount determined to be payable by either party will be immediately due and payable.
- 19.8. In the event of any dispute regarding any transaction, we may in our absolute discretion cancel, terminate, reverse or close out the whole or part of any position resulting from and/or relating to such transaction. Undated Transactions Subject to these Terms and any requirement we may specify in relation to any Linked Transactions, you may close an open Undated Transaction or any part of such open Undated Transaction at any time.
- 19.9. Subject to these Terms, when you close an Undated Transaction, the Closing Level will be, if you are closing an Undated Buy Transaction, the lower figure then quoted by us and, if you are closing an Undated Sell Transaction, the higher figure then quoted by us.

20. Expiry Transactions

- 20.1. Unless otherwise informed, if you do not close an Expiry Transaction on or before the Last Dealing Time then we will close your Expiry Transaction as soon as we have ascertained the price of the Expiry Transaction. The price of the Expiry Transaction will be (a) the last traded price at or prior to the close or the applicable official closing quotation or value in the relevant Reference Asset as reported by the relevant exchange, errors and omissions excluded; plus or, as the case may be, minus (b) any Spread that we apply when such an Expiry Transaction is closed. Details of the Spread that we apply when a particular Expiry Transaction is closed are available on request.
- 20.2. It is your responsibility to make yourself aware of the Last Dealing Time and of any Spread that we may apply when you close an Expiry Transaction.
- 20.3. We do not automatically roll over to the next contract period those of your Transaction(s) which at the end of its set contract period will expire automatically. You acknowledge that it is your responsibility to make yourself aware of the next applicable contract period for a Transaction and that effecting the rollover of a Transaction may result in you incurring losses on your account. Any agreement as to roll over is entirely at our discretion and we reserve the right to refuse to rollover a Transaction or Transactions, despite any instruction you have given us. Where we do effect a rollover, the original Transaction will be closed at or just prior to the Last Dealing Time and become due for settlement and a new Transaction will be created; such closing and opening trades will be on our normal terms.

21. Hedging Disruption

- 21.1. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Terms, if we determine that a hedging disruption has occurred, or is likely to occur, we reserve the right to take necessary action. This includes disruptions resulting from delays, interruptions, suspensions, or reductions in payments or settlements related to any transaction or asset that we consider essential for hedging our price risk on your Transaction.
- 21.2. Whether the hedging disruption arises due to a hedging counterparty failing to meet its obligations or for any other reason, you will be responsible for any additional costs or expenses we incur as a result (including the costs of unwinding, setting up, or adjusting a hedge). We will notify you of such charges and may either deduct them from your account or require payment from you. Failure to make the required payment in full and on time will be treated as an event of default.

22. Market Suspension and Delisting

- 22.1. If trading in a Reference Asset listed on a market is suspended at any time, we will determine the value of the related Transaction based on the last traded price prior to the suspension. If no trades occurred on the Business Day of the suspension, we may reasonably determine a closing price.
- 22.2. If the suspension continues for five (5) Business Days, both parties may, in good faith, agree on a Closing Date and a value for the Transaction. If no agreement is reached, the Transaction will remain open until the suspension ends or the Transaction is otherwise closed in line with this clause. During such a suspension, we reserve the right to terminate the Transaction at our discretion or adjust Margin requirements and rates.
- 22.3. If the market on which the Reference Asset is primarily traded announces under its rules that the asset will no longer be listed, traded, or quoted, and it is not promptly re-listed or quoted on another venue in the same country or jurisdiction, the date of such announcement (or the actual cessation date, if earlier) will be considered the Closing Date. We will determine and notify you of the closing price.

23. Overnight Financing and Rollover

Rolling Daily Transactions and Undated CFD Contracts are available across various Markets and Underlying Markets, each of which operates under its own conditions and spread parameters which may be adjusted at our discretion. These contracts automatically roll over into the next trading session without requiring manual intervention. If you maintain an open position beyond the close of a trading session, a Daily Financing Fee, either a debit or credit will be applied to your account accordingly.

24. Credit

Any credit facility made available to you will be outlined separately and will be subject to specific terms, conditions, and limits as agreed upon in individual correspondence. We reserve the right to modify or withdraw any such credit arrangement at our discretion and without prior notice. You acknowledge that trading on credit with us does not limit your potential losses. Neither the credit limit assigned to your account nor the Margin you have deposited serves as a cap on your financial liability. You acknowledge and agree that your financial liability to us may exceed the level of any credit or other limit placed on your account.

25. Set-Off

- 25.1. We reserve the right, at any time and without prior notice, to offset any amount we owe to you against any amount you owe to us or our affiliates. This includes, but is not limited to, losses or other liabilities, whether they are current or future, fixed or contingent, and whether or not they arise under these Terms. This right applies regardless of the currency in which the obligations are denominated.
- 25.2. If the obligations involved in the set-off are in different currencies, we may convert one liability into the other using a reasonably determined exchange rate. Exercising our setoff rights does not affect any other rights or remedies we or our affiliated companies may have under these Terms or by law.

26. Manifest Error

- 26.1. We reserve the right, without your prior consent, to either void a Transaction from inception or amend its terms if it involves a Manifest Error. If we opt to amend the Transaction, we will do so at a level we reasonably determine would have been fair at the time the trade was executed. In determining whether an error qualifies as a Manifest Error, we will act reasonably and may consider relevant factors such as the conditions of the Underlying Market at the time or inaccuracies or ambiguities in the data or sources used to derive our quoted prices. Any financial decisions you made in reliance on the Transaction such as entering or avoiding other commitments will not be considered in our determination.
- 26.2. Provided there is no fraud, intentional misconduct, or negligence on our part, we will not be liable for any loss, cost, claim, or expense resulting from a Manifest Error. This applies even when the error originates from a third-party source, commentator, or official we reasonably relied upon.

26.3. If a Manifest Error occurs and we exercise our rights under this clause, and you have received funds from us in relation to the error, you agree that such funds are repayable and must be returned to us promptly and in full.

27. Margin Payments

27.1. We may enter into transactions in options, futures or contracts for difference which will, or may, result in you having to provide margin payments, being a deposit of cash to cover any unrealised losses which have occurred or may occur in relation to your investments. Subject to our standard terms and conditions and the acceptance of your application to open an account with us, will provide you with execution only services in relation to contracts in Foreign Exchange (FX) and Contracts for Difference (CFDs) where the underlying investments or products include foreign exchange contracts, metals, equity indices and commodities. The orders for executions of transaction are strictly based on STP "Straight Through Processing" by which all margins provided are the ones directly from the liquidity provider.

27.2. Payments may be required both on entering into a transaction and on a daily basis throughout the life of the transaction if the value of the transaction moves against you. The movement in the market price of your investment will affect the amount of margin payment you will be required to make.

27.3. To enter into a leveraged Transaction you may need to deposit money with us as Margin. Margin is typically a relatively small proportion of the overall contract value. "For example- a contract trading on leverage of 100:1 will require Margin of just %1 of the contract value. This means that a small price movement in the underlying will result in large movement in the value of your trade – this can work in your favour, or result in substantial losses". (Important note: the above example is for the purpose of reference only)

27.4. Any requirement for Margin must be satisfied in such currency and within such time as may be specified by us (in our absolute discretion) or, if none is specified, immediately. One Margin demand does not preclude another. It is your responsibility to monitor your trading account and you should not rely on our right to call you for margin as a means of monitoring your account. Margin calls are made as a matter of courtesy and we are not obliged to make margin calls to clients.

27.5. You may lose your initial deposit and be required to deposit additional Margin in order to maintain your position. If you fail to meet any Margin requirement your position will be liquidated and you will be responsible for any resulting losses.

27.6. Margin may be provided in the form of cash or other assets acceptable to us at our discretion.

27.7. If you fail to provide Margin when required to do so we (or any applicable exchange, clearing house or counterparty) may close out your positions and exercise the rights described in under Clause 19. Failure to provide Margin may lead to us closing out any or all of your trading positions. We will have the right to do this at any time when you fail to provide Margin. We will additionally have the right to close out your positions in any other circumstances provided in these Terms.

28. Market Conduct

Notwithstanding any other terms in this Agreement, we reserve the right to take any action we reasonably deem necessary to ensure compliance with Market Rules, anti-money laundering regulations, and all other applicable laws, rules, and regulatory requirements. This may include, without limitation, selling or closing any or all of your open Transactions. Additionally, we may report any Transaction executed by you or on your behalf to the relevant regulatory authority, in accordance with applicable Market Rules.

29. Improper Trading

29.1. We do not guarantee the performance, speed, or uninterrupted availability of our online trading platforms (MT4/MT5), and they may be subject to system errors or internet disruptions. To the fullest extent allowed by law, we disclaim all liability for: (i) any direct or indirect loss or damage you may incur due to delays, interruptions, or system failures experienced while using our trading platforms, regardless of duration; (ii) any direct or indirect loss or damage resulting from improper, illegal, or unfair trading practices, whether committed by you or a third party, as reasonably determined by the Company; (iii) any direct or indirect loss or damage resulting from your failure to use the most current version of our trading platform.

29.2. If we have reason to believe that you or any associated party has engaged or may be engaging in improper, illegal, or unfair trading practices, we may immediately suspend the relevant trading account(s) while an investigation is carried out.

- 29.3. Latency trading is characterised by a high volume of transactions which are opened and closed within an unusually short period of time as compared to the ‘average’ client, with a disproportionate number placed advantageously between price of trade and price of Underlying Market instead of the ‘random distribution’ that would be expected when the trading platform is used ‘fairly’. Where we believe, in our reasonable judgment, that latency in the trading platform is being unfairly exploited by you, we may at our absolute discretion to:
- i. Void all affected trades;
 - ii. Return only your deposited funds (after deducting any prior withdrawals); iii. Close your trading account.

30. Understanding of both Parties

- 30.1. We will engage in transactions with you and finalize them in good faith.
- 30.2. You acknowledge and accept that all your orders are executed over-the-counter (OTC), meaning they are not executed on a regulated market or organized trading facility. By accepting this Agreement and placing any order with us, you provide your prior express consent to execute your orders outside a trading venue. This consent is provided generally and not for individual transactions.
- 30.3. We will take all reasonable and necessary steps to ensure compliance with applicable rules and regulations. Therefore, you agree to abide by any decision we make to comply with any rule, regulation, or obligation of the Company.
- 30.4. Any links to third-party websites and resources provided via our website, software, or direct platform are for informational purposes only. We have no control over the content, quality, or security of the information on these websites or resources and therefore cannot be held responsible for any losses that may arise from your use of them.
- 30.5. We take reasonable care to ensure the accuracy and completeness of any information or content, including third-party features, on our website, software, direct platform, and email communications. However, some information may be provided 'as is' and on an 'if available' basis, and we cannot give any warranties or representations, either expressed or implied, related to these features and any third-party information.
- 30.6. We reserve the right to amend product specifications and conditions available on our website as necessary. You should remain updated on our product specifications and conditions, as well as any other relevant information. You must take necessary actions to protect your interests if you believe you may be affected by any such amendments. You will continue to be bound by this Agreement in the event of any amendments. However, you retain the right to terminate the Agreement without penalty, subject to any existing obligations.

30.7. We may remove any products offered or cease providing you with the ability to place an order at any time. If you have an open position in a product we no longer provide, you are responsible for cancelling or closing such a position during the allowed time. Otherwise, we will close the position at the last available price for the relevant instrument. Any open positions on CFDs with an expiration date will be automatically closed at the end of the last trading day.

30.8. Margin Requirements for Clients;

- a) We reserve the right to adjust margin requirements and consequently alter leverage ratios offered without prior notice.
- b) Clients are encouraged to regularly review the current margin requirements displayed on our website.

30.9. Where your relationship with us involves authorised persons, all obligations and liabilities under the Agreement shall be joint and several. Any communication, including notices and orders, shall be considered delivered to all persons constituting the Client.

30.10. We reserve the right to reverse any transactions we deem contrary to your interest or ours, for any reason.

30.11. If you breach any term contained in the Agreement (or if we have reasonable grounds to believe you may be in breach), we reserve the right to temporarily or permanently suspend your access to our software, direct platform, your account(s), or terminate the Agreement, or take any other actions as we deem fit.

30.12. By becoming a Client, you do not obtain any rights to our intellectual property or that of our partners. Our website, software, data, information, documentation, and/or creations are protected under applicable laws. You have no rights to these, either at the time of entering into the Agreement or at any future point. All rights are reserved, whether expressed or implied, and whether existing now or in the future.

30.13. You shall not cause or permit any actions that might endanger or damage our intellectual property or that of our partners.

30.14. You understand that you shall not copy, reproduce, duplicate, translate, or assume ownership of any rights belonging to our partners.

We may close, suspend, or permanently discontinue any service, in full or in part, at any time and for any reason. 32.4. Notwithstanding, the Agreement will automatically terminate in the following events:

- i. If the Client is an individual, termination may occur upon the Client’s death, mental incapacity, or declaration of bankruptcy; or
- ii. If the Client is a corporate entity, termination may occur upon the initiation of winding-up, liquidation proceedings, or any similar process in any applicable jurisdiction;

- iii. Termination of the Agreement will not affect the completion of any transactions that have already been initiated prior to termination.

32.5. Any provisions relating to or containing disclaimers, limitations on liability, indemnities, disclosure of information, rights of retention and security over any assets, set-off and tax will survive the termination of this Agreement.

33. Consequences of Termination

33.1. Upon termination of this Agreement, the Company will promptly complete all transactions that were in progress at the time of termination. All outstanding fees, charges, and expenses incurred up to the point of termination or as a result of the termination will become immediately due and payable.

33.2. Termination does not affect any rights or obligations that have already accrued, any existing commitments, or any provisions of the Agreement intended to survive termination. Termination will occur without penalty or extra charges, except that the Client shall be responsible for: (i) any periodic fees owed to the Company, calculated on a pro-rata basis up to the termination date; (ii) any reasonable costs incurred by the Company in the process of terminating the Agreement; and (iii) any losses that arise as a necessary result of settling or concluding outstanding obligations.

34.3. We are entitled to, and you authorize us to, debit the Account (in case of insufficient balance to overdraw the Account) if we have credited any funds to the Account in error without any liability on us. You hereby waive any right to file any claim or lawsuit against us as a result of exercising our right under this clause.

34.4. If you provide notice under clause 32.1, we reserve the right to refuse to allow you to enter into any further positions or orders which may lead to you holding further open positions during the termination notice period.
